

2010 Precipitator Users' Group (PUG)

Held at Neundorfer Training Facility, Willoughby, Ohio. May 25-27, 2010.

Tuesday, May 25, 2010

11:15am – Bus leaves Radisson for Neundorfer

11:30 – Welcome and Tour

12:00pm-1:00m – Lunch

Small Group Learning Sessions

Participants divide into small groups to learn about different concepts and systems in the precipitator and how they affect overall performance. The groups rotate among four different stations to learn from subject matter experts in the following topics.

- Gas Flow Distribution
- Power Components
- Internals
- Rapper Control / Rapper Theory

5:00pm – Bus leaves for Radisson

5:45pm – Bus leaves Radisson for Cleveland Indians baseball game

2010 Precipitator Users' Group (PUG)

Held at Neundorfer Training Facility, Willoughby, Ohio. May 25-27, 2010.

Wednesday, May 26, 2010

8:00am – Bus leaves Radisson for Neundorfer

8:15am – Welcome and Breakfast

Small Group Learning Sessions

Learning sessions continued, covering the following topics.

- Voltage Control
- ICVS Systems, Wires
- Resistivity
- Ash Evacuation

12:00pm-1:00pm – Lunch

Case Study and Application

Participants work together in teams gathering information about real-world precipitator problems. By applying knowledge gained from Small Group Learning Sessions, they determine causes and possible corrective actions to pursue while working within a budget.

5:00pm – Bus leaves Neundorfer for Radisson

5:45pm – Bus leaves Radisson for evening event at Neundorfer

6:00pm – Dinner and evening event

9:00pm – Bus leaves Neundorfer for Radisson

2010 Precipitator Users' Group (PUG)

Held at Neundorfer Training Facility, Willoughby, Ohio. May 25-27, 2010.

Thursday, May 27, 2010

7:45am – Bus leaves Radisson for Neundorfer

8:00am – Welcome and Breakfast

Case Study Debrief

Teams share and discuss the solutions they came up with to solve precipitator problems identified during Case Study and Application.

Whole Systems Considerations

Special session about the inter-relatedness among all power plant systems, from the coal pile to the stack.

Specialized Training Breakout Sessions

Participants identify areas where they would like more in-depth training. Subject matter experts then work with individuals during customized learning sessions.

12:30pm – Bus leaves Neundorfer for Radisson

Box lunches will be provided